

CREATING A SHARED VISION IN MARRIAGE

What are your dreams for yourself? What activities bring you joy?

*What are your dreams for your married life together? What activities would you like to share as a couple?
What are your dreams for the family you will be starting? What family traditions are important to you?*

What are your dreams for your wife/husband? What new pursuits and growth would you like your partner to embrace?

A good marriage can provide only about 25% of your overall happiness in life. Thus, the best couples work together not only to advance their shared dreams, but also to support each other's independent dreams.
